NARRATIVE
When returning home yesterday evening, my husband and I parked the car around the corner from our house on Warner Street between 5th and New Jersey because there was no space in front of ours. We left to visit my parents in Silver Spring around 12:30pm on Sunday the 15th. Upon unloading our car when we returned around 6:30pm, we noticed the front plate was missing. Subsequent searches near my parents house and near where we parked last night did not yield the missing front tag. To the best of my knowledge the license plate was held on by all of its screws prior to the incident. We feel it is unlikely that the incident occurred in Silver Spring MD, as we had my parents go back and search the entire block for the tags and, and the car was only parked there for about 5 hours total, as opposed to overnight in the parking spot near our home in DC. The car's registration expires in April 2022. The tags say "See Window Sticker" to see when it expires. I have not yet gone to the DMV because as their website states that "Metropolitan Police Department police report is required for the lost or stolen tags", so I figured I should make this report and have it processed before making a trip to the DMV.
